To whom it may concern

Dear colleagues,

I am writing this letter to support the application of Danuse Nerudova as Full Professor at your University. I am the holder of a Jean Monnet ad Personam Chair on European Tax Law and Policy at the WU Vienna University of Economics and Business, a Member of the Faculty of the Doctorate in International Business Taxation (DIBT) and of the Junge Kurie of the Austrian Academy of Sciences. Since June 2013 I also serve as the Academic Chairman of the International Bureau of Fiscal Documentation, based in Amsterdam.

Have known Danuse for several years and have done interdisciplinary research with her over the past four years on the financial transaction tax. I really appreciate her outstanding ability to be one of the few economists who can do research with lawyers on technical issues of international taxation, be perfectly on top of the debate in international legal literature and explain to lawyers technical issues in a way that allows developing scientific interdisciplinary synergies.

Aside from her outstanding academic qualities, as a result of her research efforts Danuse has published quality publications submitted at several top international conferences.

I also appreciate her hard working, outstanding motivation and the human qualities, all of which will allow her to soon become a scholar of top international reputation in both the legal and economic scientific communities in the world.

In conclusion, Danuse Nerudova has top rate academic skills and I would highly recommend her for the position of Full Professor at your University. If you should need any additional information please contact me at the email address indicated above.

Kind regards

Prof. Dr. Pasquale Pistone
Jean Monnet ad personam Professor
Institute for Austrian and International Tax Law, WU
Academic Chairman, IBFD
